

1. AREA OF EXPERTICE

ENERGY MANAGEMENT

This faculty member's expertise is insightful and practical in today's environmentally conscious society. He has obtained his vast experience from working with industrial, municipal, agricultural and utility companies.

He is the President and CEO of a leading Canadian-based energy service organization that services large to mid size customers. He is a huge advocate of competition, customer choice and market transparency within the energy industry. He has well over 20 years of experience in the energy industry with exposure in North America and the UK concentrating his efforts in the regulated and deregulated electric and natural gas sectors. This exposure in a variety of international markets within an assortment of industries has proven to him the benefit of an open market and the need to obtain critical and timely knowledge about market pricing and site usage. In achieving this goal, the customer takes advantage of the marketplace instead of the marketplace taking advantage of them.

This practitioner has demonstrated a keen ability to develop customized energy-management programs which have been proven to achieve significant savings for all clients.

Over the past 2 years, he has developed 3 flag-ship products that aim to capture world-wide best practices in a format that can be easily deployed. These programs identify and engage people across multiple departments, from accounting to maintenance, and at different levels, from the plant floor to the boardroom. The partnerships created allow leading utilities and companies to focus on building a sustainable and effective energy management culture. With the programs sponsored by Union Gas, Enbridge Gas Distribution, and BC Hydro, the customized approach delivered by his company has garnered success across the nation.
